

Contents

M. S. Wald	1-2	Editorial
R. Natarajan	3-6	Guest Editorial
views
L. S. Srinath	7-11	Engineers and Engineering Societies
P. V. Indiresan	12-16	Education in the IITs: A Question of Head and Heart
educational policy
G. Thyagarajan and P. N. Desai	17-19	Technology Policy for Global Competition: Lessons from East Asia
P. B. Sharma	20-24	Management of Technical Institutions—New Challenges
R. Natarajan	25-35	Design of the Organizational Framework for Accreditation of Engineering Institutions
R. Natarajan	36-40	The Quality Improvement Programme
C. Ramakrishna Sastri	41-51	Technician Education in India: Rejuvenation with World Bank Assistance
Vijay V. Mandke	52-60	Co-operative Education—The Indian Experience
Vijay V. Mandke	61-69	Learning of Science and Technology through the Distance Mode: Opportunity for Continuing Education at the Work Place
M. V. Ranganath	70-75	Continuing Education of Working Professionals—A Case Study of India
K. L. Kumar	76-82	The Role of Educational Technology in Engineering Education—an Indian Scenario
manpower policy
A. R. Rajeswari	83-94	Engineering Manpower and Economic Development
R. Bhaskaran	95-99	Placement Services in Indian Engineering Institutions
S. P. Sukhatme	100-110	Nature of Work and Employment Profiles of Graduate and Postgraduate Alumni of the Indian Institute of Technology, Bombay
R. Natarajan	111-113	Education and Employment of Women in Engineering in India
R. Natarajan, K. Ganesh Babu and M. S. Ananth	114-123	The Nature and Scope of the Brain-drain of Engineering Graduates
engineering education and industry
L. S. Chandrakant, K. Seetharama Rao, A. Ramakrishnan, and R. Natarajan	124-126	How Indian Industry Perceives Engineering Curricula in Relation to Job Requirements
N. Kumar	127-132	Industry-University Symbiosis
Shashi K. Gulhati	133-135	Consultancy in Engineering Education: Opportunity and Challenges
R. C. Malhotra	136-141	Entrepreneurship Development in Indian and the Role of Academia
P. Englemann	142-146	Engineering Education in India—The Role of Bilateral Co-operation